Czar Tells Officers to Keep Close to Men.

SECRET OF STRENGTH

Words of Emperor Are Regarded As Significant At the Present Time.

ENDEAVOR TO SHORTEN GULF

Bureaucracy Realizes Lack of Sympathy Between the Officers and Men, Was Cause of the Disasters to the Army in Manchuria.

ST. PETERSBURG, July 14.—The Emperor in giving the graduates of the Artillery School their commissions at Peterhof yesterday used remarkable language. After repeating his usual injunction to be faithful to the throne, the fatherland, and trust in God and the future of Russia, he instructed them not to hold aloof from the soldiers in the ranks, but keep in close touch with them and look after their needs and interests in order to bring them closer to their officers. The Emperor's words are significant in recognition of the necessity of shortening the gulf between the officers and men which was the cause of so much disaster in Manchuria and which now is making easy, the destruction of the morale of the army by the revolutionary propaganda.

Revolution Goes On.

TSCERKASSY, Tyver Province, July 14.—The cavalry attacked a meeting of four thousand peasants and were beaten off leaving four dead and four wounded.

TO TREBLE INDUSTRY OF COAST WHALING STATION

VICTORIA, July 14.—The success of the coast whaling station at Sechart, on the Vancouver Island coast, where the Pacific Steam Whaling Company of Victoria commenced operations a year ago, and has since taken an average of one whale a day, has caused the officials to decide to treble the industry. Plans are being drawn for two new stations, one at Nootka Sound, the other at Rivers Inlet. Two additional whaling steamers will be ordered in Norway, where the little whaler Orion was built. Arrangements will be made for a steam freighter for the company. During the last four days, the Orion has taken nine whales, valued at $10,000. On Wednesday four whales were brought in at one time.

A LIVE EASY MARK

Unsophisticated Female Gives $1,000 On Marriage Promise.

VILLAIN IS LATER ARRESTED

Inserts Advertisement in Newspaper For Young Woman With $1000 Who Wanted Husband—Skips With Cash.

NEW YORK, July 14.—Police Captain Hussey has been putting his spare time for the past three months reading the small type in the advertisement columns of newspapers. Sunday he read a personal in which the writer sought a young woman with $1000 who wanted to invest her cash to good advantage and who also wanted a husband.

A similarly worded advertisement had caught the eye of Miss Kate Kelly, of Portland, Maine, last May and she answered it. She received a reply, took a train for New York and went to the Grand Central Station, carrying two flowers in her right hand. She was met by a good-looking man who said he was Ernest Paul of Wilkesburg, Pa. After a few interviews she gave him, she alleges, $1000 to invest in the hotel business and he departed, promising to return soon and marry her. A week later she got a letter from him saying the hotel had burned down. That was the last she heard of her $1000 and she told her story to Captain Hussey.

When the advertisement appeared again Sunday the Captain and his detectives wrote a letter of mixed German and English, signing it Marie Rodie, and submitting a cash marriage proposition. An answer was received from Wilkesburg asking Marie to meet "E. Paul" at Grand Central Station last night.

The Captain impressed a young woman into the service. She met Mr. Paul and at a pre-arranged signal he was arrested.

He gave his name as Ernest Paul. In his possession was found a bank book in the name of Paul Settelkau and Company with a deposit of $5000 with the Central National Bank of Wilkesburg, Pa., and another in the same bank in the name of E. Paul. He had a check dated in April for $1000 drawn on the Nassau Trust Company of Brooklyn.

OPPOSE HIS WISHES

Wanted Prisoner to Plead Insanity and Thaw Refuses to Do So.

QUARREL OCCURS ON FRIDAY

Verbal Combat Takes Place Between Murderer and Judge Olcott—Refuses to Discuss the Case—Mrs. Thaw Arrives.

NEW YORK, July 14.—It was said tonight that Thaw had dismissed the law firm of Black, Olcott, Gruber, and Bonygne in a fit of anger. The dismissal, it is said, is the culmination of a number of arguments Thaw has had with various members of the firm over the question of a defense. Judge Olcott insisted that insanity be made the chief point in the defense it is believed, while Thaw insisted emphatically that he would not stand for an insanity plea. According to the authority for this story, the verbal combat was with Judge Olcott on Friday afternoon. Thaw in a great rage, wound up his tirade by telling his lawyers that the firm of Black, Olcott, Gruber and Bonygne were no longer his counsel. It is said Thaw today put in writing his dismissal of the firm.

Mrs. Thaw Arrives.

Mrs. William Thaw, mother of Harry K. Thaw, arrived here today from Hamburg, accompanied by her daughter and maid. She denied herself to interviewers. Nothing regarding her future movements could be obtained.

Not Engaged By Thaw.

A member of Olcott's firm tonight said: "Our firm was not engaged by Harry Thaw, but by the firm of DeLafield and Longfellow. They retained us to take charge of the criminal end of the case. We had been obliged in making our plans for the defense of young Thaw to go along lines in defiance of his wishes. Further than that, I do not care to talk just now."

Thaw has ordered Olcott's firm to turn over all the papers in the case to Clifford Hartridge, who has acted as personal counsel to the young man.

YACHT CLUB ROBBED.

Series of Startling Thefts of Jewels in New York Yacht Club.

NEW YORK, July 14.—The Herald today, says:

Through police headquarters last night it became known that a series of robberies has occurred in the New York Yacht Club during the last week, involving the theft of jewelry worth several thousand dollars, from the rooms of William H. Osgood, one of the old members who lives in the club house. Detectives put to work on the case followed every possible clew in the minutest detail without the least result and the mystery is as deep as it was several days ago. The strangest part of the matter is that a portion of the valuables stolen is said to have been recovered in the club house within two or three days after the theft was discovered, though several expensive pins and other jewels are still missing. It is believed the rest of the plunder will be recovered within a few days.

Mr. Osgood is a member of the well known yachting family of that name.

Inquiry at the club house was met with the information that Thomas A. Bronson, chairman of the house committee, wished to deny the story of the robbery.
